Industrial Supply Company Announces Key Executive Appointments

Salt Lake City, UT – January 15, 2025 Today, the Board of Directors of the Industrial Supply Company announced two significant executive appointments, which will strengthen the company's leadership team and support ongoing strategic initiatives. Industrial Supply Company is a leading distributor of maintenance, repair, operational, and production (MROP) products and services in the Intermountain West.

Jonathan Evans Named Vice President of Technology

A great-grandson of Industrial Supply Company's founder, Jonathan Evans has been with the company since 2005, during which he has played a pivotal role in modernizing the company's IT infrastructure and advancing technology objectives. As the company's Director of IT, Evans has overseen all aspects of cybersecurity, compliance, and technology infrastructure, ensuring that the company remains ahead of industry trends and maintains robust IT systems.

Industrial Supply CEO Jessica Yurgaitis, said that the decision to promote Evans was based on his innovative approaches and technical expertise, which have been instrumental in the company's ability to adapt and thrive in an ever-changing environment. "I look forward to working with Evans in his new leadership role, and am confident that through his efforts, Industrial Supply will be in the best position possible to meet the diverse needs of our customers," said Yurgaitis.

Cody Naylor Promoted to Regional Vice President

The Board of Directors also promoted Cody Naylor to the position of Regional Vice President. Previously serving as the Director of Solutions and Regional Manager for the Ogden, Rock Springs, and Gillette branch locations, Naylor has excelled in his role, overseeing key areas of the business such as vendor managed inventory, vending programs, and safety categories.

"Cody's organizational skills, ability to manage projects, and his proficiency in leading and motivating others, bring incredible strength to the executive team of the company," said Industrial Supply Senior Vice President of Sales Ruben Mendez. Naylor joins current Regional Vice Presidents Damon Bohn and Tyler Whipple, making it possible for the entire team to grow their individual responsibilities and work effectively to serve their areas.

Strengthening Leadership for Continued Growth

The Board of Directors noted that both Evans and Naylor have demonstrated exceptional leadership and are important contributors to the company's ongoing success. Their promotions align with the company's strategy to strengthen its executive team and increase leadership capabilities in broader geographic regions.
